

RAIN HAPPENS

ARE YOU READY?

Shortage of water is a growing global concern. Residential lawn and plant irrigation can account for almost 40% of all domestic water consumption.

However, rain is free. A 60 gallon rain barrel can fill in less than $\frac{1}{4}$ " of rainfall, depending on the size of your roof and gutter system. Link two or three barrels together and you can save up to 180 gallons of precious rainwater. Ultimately, the burden on the local water system will diminish and save you money. Start collecting for rainy-less days!
